We of the Cambridge church of Christ invite you to all our services.

"...the churches of Christ salute you" (Romans 16:16).

WHAT COULD BE WRONG?

Everything seemed to be going as planned but then the news came that the one we loved, the one who'd done so much for us and had been there at every turn, had just passed away. Oh! The shock; the heartbreak!

Now it was time to make the phone calls that nobody wants to receive and plan for the event nobody likes planning for. Our loved one was so popular; everybody always talked about how they loved our special one. There are going to be so many people; how will we ever accommodate them all. Who will take care of this, and that?

The time is getting close; I wonder where everybody is. There should be more here by now. Where are all the ones who said they loved this dear, departed one? Why aren't they here? Don't they know how important this is? The family needs them now more than ever. What could be wrong?

Imagine the preceding scenario. How heart-broken would you be if scarcely a handful of folks showed up to pay their respects to someone you loved? Somebody that seemed so popular and well-spoken of. The insult to injury would be astounding.

Now imagine how the Father must feel. Yes, our Father feels love when we worship Him in spirit and in truth (John 4:24), but He can also feel betrayal and neglect when He calls us to memorialize His only begotten Son and worship Him, but we decide we have more important things to do. Our Father created us and He knows our hearts and He knows why we are absent from the assembly of His church. He knows if we are too ill, and He also knows how we attempt to justify not meeting with the brethren and how we salve our consciences by rationalizing not going to church". Consider this; He knows why we need to assemble and that is why He created within us an innate propensity to worship. We come together in the assembly to learn things (Matt. 28:20; 1 Pet. 2:2; Acts 20:28). Each Lord's Day we are afforded the opportunity to commune with God by taking part in the memorial supper that our Lord Himself instituted the very night He was betrayed and sold into the hands of wicked men (1 Cor. 11:23-26; Acts 20:7). Also, we sing and pray together to the God of Heaven for the great things he has done (Col. 3:16; Acts 2:42). This is also the time we can return thanks for our prosperity by giving a portion back to God through the church treasury for carrying on the works of the local church. Each of things are mandates from God, and not one of these is any less important than another—omit any one of these, and our obligation to God has not been met.

I would be remiss if I failed to remind of the joyful blessings we get from our joining together—having fellowship, one with another (1 John 1:7)—as we serve God Sunday morning, Sunday night, and Wednesday night: it builds us up (Acts 20:32); it helps keep us from being led astray (Eph. 4:14); it helps us to grow and teach others (2 Tim. 2:2); it makes us vital participants in the family of God (Rom. 12:5) and it provides us with opportunities to work and serve (Matt. 25:14-30).

Every life and death is worth remembering, for one reason or another. The life and death of our Lord Jesus Christ is an exceptional example because He lived perfectly, died vicariously and reigns eternally. Should we not assemble to remember, to study and to draw closer to Him at each opportunity? We have an assembly of Christians and friends here three times each week; we worship the same God each time. I urge you with my whole heart...what could be wrong?—J&K.
