Deeper study:

Jesus of Nazareth frequently and empathetically declared that he bore a vital relationship to the literature of the Old Testament. In the Sermon on the Mount, he said that he came to “fulfill the law” (Matt. 5:17). To some rebellious Jews, the Master once declared: “Ye search the scriptures, because ye think that in them ye have eternal life; and these are they which bear witness of me” (John 5:39). Again, the Lord clearly affirmed:

ALL things must needs be fulfilled, which are written in the law of Moses and the prophets, and the psalms [a threefold breakdown of the Old Testament] concerning me (Luke 24:44).
