Focus on what?

We can lose focus on what is truly important, especially during worship. Our Focus should be on God when we walk through the doors of the auditorium and to help encourage one another. Sadly, our minds shift to something that will happen that day or the next.

Is your focus during worship on what you will eat that day, on the test that you will have on Monday, or what you will be doing that week? If it is, then you must shift your focus back on God. He is the reason why we come here to worship. God is the center when the church gathers.

We are not here to be entertained, if you want to be entertained stay home. Once here, we must focus our minds on God. In Hebrews 12:1-2, we are called to fix our eyes on Jesus because he is the one who made it possible to have eternal life. We rejoice every time we are here because of what he did.

When Israel would gather to worship God, they fixed their eyes on God. He was the reason they were free from Egypt and the reason they were protected. We praise God because he has freed us from sin. So we must shift our focus to God, not just during worship, but every day we live.
